

RMPP Weekly Reflections

Unit 12 Reflection

Unit 12 offers knowledge regarding project management. This is a helpful reminder after previous modules where learning about project life cycles, methodologies and frameworks has taken place. The project management area is intrinsic to the workplace environment, encompassing relationships, risk and processes.

The self-test quiz confirmed my understanding of the areas. The final reflection piece was prepared during this time, considering the module's emotional responses, learning and changed behaviours. The reflection provides an excellent opportunity to review this module's progress holistically.
