

RMPP Weekly Reflections

Unit 10 Reflection

Unit 10 offered skills to structure research writing projects and further complete the summative Research Project presentation assignment. The presentation offers audio and visual methods of presenting findings. This was useful in supporting communication, providing engaging content to attract the audience and reconfirm my understanding of the content.

The submission of the statistical exercises was due; however, from careful time management, I could submit these early. However, on reflection with more time, it would have been better to review this content and provide more in-depth interpretations from my observations.
